4.TPM IN NORWAY – ONLINE MEETING

Due to Coronavirus Global outbreak, and the lock-down in project countries, it was not possible for partners to travel and meet physically. Thus, the meeting was hosted on the Gotomeeting online platform and recorded.

During the meeting, the partners discussed about the overall project implementation, result visibility and dissemination activities, next steps, analysis and exchange of feedback on the work already done, and the short-term joint staff training activity C1.

To concluded, as it was not certain about when COVID-19 crisis will end, the partners decided by mutual agreement to check back in May 2020 on how it evolves, to see whether to maintain or change the set dates for project's activities.

DIGITAL@DULTS.EU MANUAL

Manual of Researches in Europe on the Best Practices in the Field of ICT for Adult Education is the result of national research by the partners under digital@dults.eu.

The Manual is available in partner languages and English, with best practice proposed by the partners based on consultations with adults and adult educators. The manual contains guidance on using them; how effective and relevant to target groups.

Thus, the manual is a presentation of materials, and feedback from learners and educators on how to strengthen digital skill and engage with disadvantaged adult learners in social networks applied to the world of work.

SHORT-TERM JOINT STAFF TRAINING

This short-term joint staff training Event, will create a space for the partners to explore further the usability with the manual with the invited adult educators from each partner countries.

After the training, at the local or national level, the participants are required to implement a post-training intervention for transfer of learning, where the collected data will serve as evidence that demonstrate how the project is
